

Coming Soon to your Battle Ground Community Library

Battle Ground's unsolved history mystery

Who killed Chief Umtuch?

No one knows for certain but you can explore the clash of cultures, fears and attitudes that prevailed in November 1855 when an Indian chief lost his life and a volunteer army captain was mocked for being a peacemaker.

See the display of photos and stories of these historic times.

On display all of September and October in the Meyer Community Room
1207 SE 8th Way, Battle Ground Village

Researched, funded and presented by Friends of the Battle Ground Community Library